How do you view the world who is now in your neighborhood? Are they just part of the scenery, or do you use them because they are here to serve us? Are they someone whom we might just wave to on occasion, or people made in God’s image whom He has placed in our path to love and become our friend in order to see them join us in His Kingdom?

Workshop Title: More than Just Walking the Talk

Workshop Synopsis

Immigrant children who grew up in Canada may face challenges when trying to connect with their parents, despite their best efforts. The common saying "actions speak louder than words" may not always apply. It can be discouraging but understandable, as navigating a dominant culture that may be hard to understand is challenging. This workshop hopes to provide strategies for developing cultural fluency, which can help bridge the gap between generations and engage younger people seeking solutions to express love to their parents in a confusing world.

Workshop Presenter—Option 2

Pat Dyck

Pat has taught ESL for more than 20 years. She currently serves at Columbia College. She has also been involved, more recently, helping young Egyptians who work with a missionary organization.

Workshop Title: Common Pronunciation Problems

Workshop Synopsis: A quick overview of some common pronunciation problems and how to help language learners overcome them.
